

Dan Anglin & Ron Fairchild
Prince Henry Foundation

October 1, 2008

Dan and Ron,

On behalf of the entire Bacot McCarty Foundation family, I would like to express my personal thanks to all the many supporters of the efforts of the Prince Henry Foundation. Your dedication to making this world a better place is much appreciated.

The Bacot McCarty Foundation addresses the needs of youth, education and arts in South Mississippi which was devastated by the effects of Hurricane Katrina in August of 2005. The foundation led the recovery efforts for the local community with the establishment of the Rebuild Jackson County Fund, which channeled over 4 million dollars into the restoration of homes and lives that had been destroyed by the disaster. Through this effort, the foundation was also privileged to help with the restoration of daycares and playgrounds across the gulf coast which allowed parents to return to work knowing that their children were well cared for.

Additionally, the foundation was called upon by the local community to increase its financial support of local agencies such as the Boys & Girls Clubs, the Boy Scouts, Youth for Christ, the Salvation Army and many others. Without our support, these many other agencies and schools would have long since folded under the enormous financial problems that they experienced.

The efforts of many large institutions as well as the unwavering support of the people of not only South Mississippi but those all across the nation has enabled us to start the process of recovery. It is through the contributions and vision of benevolent individuals like you that has made this possible. Not only has your financial contribution helped, but I personally appreciate you Ron visiting the coast and offering your expertise with how we can continue to move forward. That show of support was immeasurable in its helping to give us hope for a better tomorrow..... Your efforts truly are making a difference.

Again, we appreciate all the work and dedication that both of you share and look forward to future relations going forward.

Todd Trenchard
Executive Director
Bacot McCarty Foundation

